

A tablet is mounted on a black, adjustable stand. The tablet screen shows a video conference with five participants. Two participants are in large windows at the top: a woman on the left and a man on the right. Below them are three smaller windows showing a man, a woman, and another man. At the bottom of the screen is a dark blue control bar with icons for mute, video, chat, and a red end call button. The stand has a flat base and a central column with a joint that allows the tablet to tilt. The brand name 'DZEE' is visible on the base.
